Hello! In this PDF painting guide I'll be painting Werewolf by Night from the "Monsters Unleashed" character pack for Atomic Mass Games' Marvel: Crisis Protocol Miniatures Game.

As usual I've primed the figure in black followed with some zenithal highlights applied from above:

I then decided to sculpt a ripped shirt effect using Green Stuff (which I would have done before priming, had I thought of it at the time!).

I'm starting by placing some thin strips across the chest area:

It's a good idea to keep the fingers wet whilst working with Green Stuff to prevent it sticking.

I'm also adding some at the back:

I'm now adding some flatter pieces, like this one on the shoulder:

We can pull and stretch the green stuff to create some more ragged edges:

Here you can see me adding more flat pieces; each time I'll use the tool to press them down into the Green Stuff that's already there:

I'm now just freely building the effect up:

We can also create ripped holes in some of the flatter areas:

Next I chose to glue down a few pieces of rocky scatter to the base (this is Urban Scatter by Jarvis):

I'm now just brushing some primer over the Green Stuff:

And once dry I've provided a fresh blast of zenithal highlights from above:

After doing a quick colour test on the left foot I decided to paint the ground, initially with a free mix of Blue Black, Black Brown, and Black Green, creating some variation between the flagstones as I go:

I'm then doing some light drybrushing and quick edge highlighting (any light Khaki or Ivory tones would be fine for this):

For the fur I'm using Black Brown for the shadow tone, then a mix of Light Umber and Camo Green for the mid tones, and Golden Brown mixed with Yellow Green for the highlights:

Here you can see the tones that I want after mixing (for the mid and highlight tones I used more of the browns than the greens in the mix):

I'm first providing a base coat with the Black Brown, and also using pure Black for the claws:

We can then start building up to the mid tones, introducing a bit of texture as we work:

And here I'm now mixing in some of the highlight tone:

I'm now moving on to the torso etc where I've decided to start blocking in the shadow and mid tones to save a bit of time:

Here I'm taking a break from the fur to clean up some of the top using Bright Neutral Grey:

And I'm now going to shade the top down using a mix of Dark Neutral Grey and Neutral Grey, thinned down with some Glaze & Wash Medium:

We can also add some black lining where the top meets the fur to aid the definition:

Next I'm painting the shorts using a mix of Blue Black and Jade, which I'm also darkening with some Coal Black for the more shadowed areas:

Here I'm mixing the Jade and Blue Black:

And here I'm adding some Black off to the side:

I'm then blocking in the shadows with the darker tone:

Then using the lighter tone for the rest:

This will need a couple of layers to achieve a solid finish:

For the red detailing I'm using Red darkened with a little Black:

I'm once again doing some careful black lining between the shorts and the fur, but also for the design on the shorts:

I'm now painting the eyes using Bright Ivory followed with a mix of Bright Ivory and Golden Yellow:

We can then add some black lining for the surrounding area:

I'm also painting the nose with the Black:

I'm now returning to push the fur highlights on the face area:

I'm also picking out the teeth with some Khaki, then a hit of Bright Ivory:

And here I've just mixed some grey tones to provide a shiny highlight for the nose:

I'm now continuing to work on the highlights for the rest of the fur, aiming for a nice sense of volume whilst also articulating the texture:

I'm also painting the claws on the hands with Black:

Here I'm using some Bright Warm Grey to add a few highlights to some of the upper edges of the ripped top:

And we can add some Bright Ivory to the Black to create some sharp highlights for the claws:

Next I'm returning to the shorts where I'm going to mix some Bright Jade into the base tone to add some highlights:

I'm also highlight the red details up to pure Red from the base tone:

And I'm pushing the Jade highlights a little further:

And here I'm just adding some secondary reflective highlights:

I felt that the base needs a little more colour to balance things out, so I'm now using some Agrax Earthshade and Coelia Greenshade to create some tonal variation for the central area:

And we can also darken the grooves:

I also decided to thin some Coelia Greenshade right down with Lahmian Medium, and provide a gentle tint to the ripped top:

And here I'm adding some Pale Yellow to the Red to push the highlights on the red detailing a little further:

And I'm now just adding a few final touches to the fur:

And this completes Werefolk by Night!
